Assignment 1b Rubric

Grade Range	File structures and validity (20%)	HTML (40%)	CSS (40%)
Baseline	Correct folder structure (images in images folder, css in css folder, homepage named index.html)	A basic range of HTML structural elements included (e.g. header, footer, main)	Basic CSS layout properties are used (e.g. margin, padding, border, width, height)
Good	As above, and website is deployed on a web server	As above, and a nav section has been added that contains links to all pages in the website	As above, plus CSS styles are applied to images, figures and figcaptions; background images are also used
Excellent	As above, and all HTML pages validate with no errors	As above, plus figures and figcaptions are included	As above, and CSS is used to style the nav section as a menu for the website; CSS layout properties like float, position and display are also used
Outstanding	As above, and all HTML and CSS files validate with no errors	As above, and a wider range of structural elements are used (e.g. section, article, aside)	As above, and a wide range of CSS layout properties are applied to the HTML structural elements. The site should have a consistent layout across all pages.